THE COST OF NOT HAVING HEALTH CARE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair understands that the gentleman from Georgia does not seek to proceed with a call to order pursuant to clause 4 of rule XVII. As such, the gentleman from Florida is recognized for 37 minutes.

Mr. GRAYSON. We now return to our regularly scheduled program. The efforts to keep me from doing what I'm doing here have failed, and now I'm going to continue. So, for those of you who are joining, let me explain what is happening here.

The American Journal of Public Health published a study a month ago, identifying the fact that 44,789 Americans die each year from not having health insurance. If you have two identical Americans, one of whom has health insurance, one of whom doesn't—we're talking about people who are the same age, the same gender, the same race, with the same smoking habits, the same weight—the one who does not have health insurance is 40 percent more likely to die.

We also have statistics from the Urban Institute, identifying how many uninsured people there are in each district, and we all know that the Republicans have promised to vote against the Democrats' health care bill. So what we're doing here tonight is the remarkably simple exercise of A times B equals C—A times B equals C—and identifying for each Republican district what that actually means.

When I was interrupted before, I had just said the following: Ohio District 12, Congressman Patrick Tiberi, 66 dead.

Now I'm going to continue until the end.

Ohio District 14, Congressman Steve LaTourette, 58 dead.

Ohio District 1, Congressman John Sullivan, 125 dead.

Oklahoma District 3, Congressman Frank Lucas, 128 dead.

Oklahoma District 4, Congressman Tom Cole, 121 dead.
